

IIUSA Advocacy Conference Agenda

As the first and only not-for profit industry trade association representing 500+ EB-5 stakeholder organizations across the country, IIUSA has successfully hosted over a dozen large-scale industry conferences, including eight prior events in our nation's capital.

The Advocacy Conference in D.C. gives experienced industry participants as well as new industry participants an unmatched platform to develop lasting business relationships that lead to job creation and economic development through the EB-5 Program.

IIUSA conferences are enjoyed by stakeholders from various professions. Whether you are a developer, Regional Center principal, economic development professional, financial services provider, attorney (corporate/immigration/securities/transactional law) foreign migration advisor, consultant, entrepreneur or other service provider, this event is suitable for you.

The EB-5 Market Exchange is truly the "can't-miss" EB-5 event of the Spring each and every year.

What makes the EB-5 Advocacy Conference so special?

Quite simply, it's the quality of our people, numerous high-level government speakers, carefully selected expert panelists discussing the industry's hottest topics and a welcoming environment for all EB-5 practitioners. Set over several days at one of D.C.'s finest hotels, we provide attendees with ample networking activities and receptions to make connections near and far.

Schedule & Agenda

For a preliminary schedule, visit iiusa.org/dc2016. Stay tuned as we will be announcing newly confirmed Guests of Honor and panels speakers in the days ahead.

In short, the event will begin on Wednesday April 20th with IIUSA Committee meetings the annual Membership Meeting (see below for more) and then a full conference welcome/kickoff reception in the exhibit hall that evening.

On Thursday April 20th, conference attendees will hear from dozens of guest of honor and keynote speakers and panels followed by another evening reception to cap off the day.

Friday April 21st is the penultimate day, putting a capstone on the conference at noon.
